Seamless, Risk-Free Migration to Guidewire Starts Here

Your core insurance solution is only as powerful as the data driving it. And data migration? It can be complex and high-stakes—but with the right partner, it doesn't have to be.

From rigid package structures to gaps in migration expertise and unfamiliar P&C models, insurers face several hurdles. Add to that the risk of exceeding budgets—often by more than 135%—and the stakes are clear.

That's where Hexaware comes in.

We simplify your legacy system migration with our metadata-driven, automated data conversion engine—purpose-built for platforms like Guidewire. Whether you're using Conversion on Renewal for PolicyCenter or leveraging DataHub as a staging area, our core insurance package solutions minimize risk, maximize speed, and align with industry best practices.

What You Get

- Accurate mapping from legacy data models to core package interface specifications
- Alignment of legacy data with business processes specific to your Guidewire package
- Handling of repurposed fields for smoother transition
- Resolution of gaps in policy and claims history
- Elimination of duplicate contact records
- Cleansing of inaccurate or incomplete address data
- Prevention of data leakage during consistency checks
- Access to servicing records and historical transactions not migrated

Why Choose Hexaware for Insurance Data Migration?

When a leading Swiss insurer needed to modernize its Belgian operations, Hexaware delivered—seamlessly migrating over 175,000 fire and liability policies to a new Policy Administration System using our intelligent automation solution. The result? A 50% productivity boost, €500,000+ in annual savings, and faster time-to-market—driving policy sales and strengthening customer management.

With a blend of cutting-edge automation and deep insurance expertise, we ensure your migration journey delivers real business outcomes.
