AI Agents for Self-Service and Actionable Insights

Flyer

As a Microsoft Fabric Featured Partner, Hexaware helps you turn data into business value.

With Microsoft Fabric's unified platform, you get agentic AI-powered, secure, and scalable data products that deliver faster insights, smarter operations, and built-in compliance.

Your teams gain business-ready data products—complete with context, quality checks, and metadata—with data safeguards, so teams can prioritize driving business results.

Data Products for Business Functions

Hexaware's data products powered by AI agents are designed to solve real challenges with industry-focused solutions across businesses like banking, insurance, healthcare, manufacturing, retail, and more.

Decision Support Data Product

Empower AI-ready high-quality, context-rich, and governed datasets

AI Agents' Role in Our Data Product

- Unified Intelligence Layer: Combines structured and unstructured data from internal systems and third-party sources into a governed, query-able format using metadata-driven framework.
- Fabric-Native Architecture: Works on data engineering across Microsoft Fabric Lakehouse, Fabric Data Factory pipelines, MS Fabric Purview Data Governance, and Power BI visualizations.

Business Value You Achieve

- Accelerated decision-making in critical business functions across industries like underwriting, credit approvals, diagnosis planning, and inventory optimization.
- Enhanced data consistency, auditability, and reduced manual intervention.

Analytical Data Product

Enable smarter enterprise reporting and self-service insights across levels

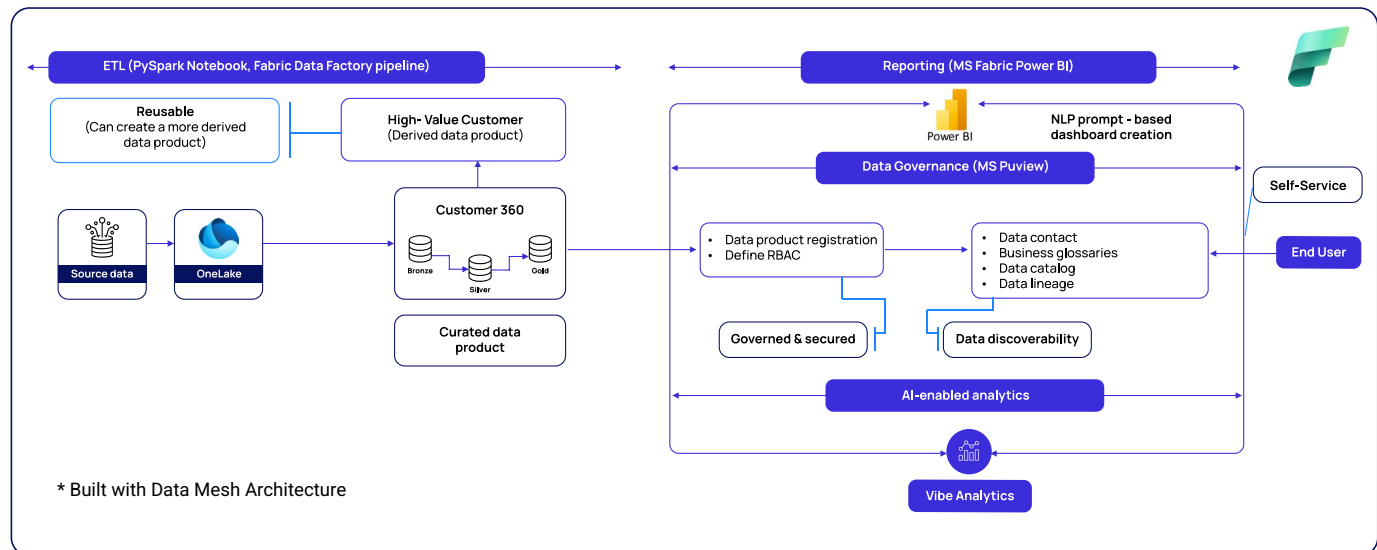

AI Agents' Role in Our Data Product

- End-to-End Data Insights: Ingests transactional, operational, and behavioral data of AI agents (ex: claims, incidents, orders, and more) to finetune your AI insights.
- Optimization with Self-learning: Detects anomalies, predicts escalations, and recommends optimal interventions for better insights within your business.

Business Value You Achieve

- Reduced data-to-insight time in claims, disputes, returns, fraud and more.
- Minimized data losses and leakage through proactive intervention.
